VICTOR'S STORY

Victor Lee Young Sr. was born October 21, 1957, in Houston, Texas to Herbert Young Sr. and Odis Lee Sherman Young. Victor was the youngest of six children.

Victor was raised in Sunnyside and later in Fourth Ward Texas. He went to Gregory Elementary on Victor St. and Abraham Lincoln Junior/Senior High on West Dallas. He graduated in 1977. Victor loved basketball and he was good at it. The basketball team played a championship game in 1975 at Hofheinz Pavilion. The neighborhood closed down.

Victor loved people he had an infectious personality. He could talk none stop. People loved to be around him because of his charming personality and his unforgettable smile. Loretta said, "if Victor could talk to a dog he would."

Victor was baptized as one Jehovah's Witnesses. He attended Garden Oaks Congregation until he took sick with Alzheimer and had to be hospitalized.

Victor was preceded in death by both his parents, Herbert Young Sr. and Odis Lee Young; and his brother Ronald "Ronnie" Young.

Victor will be dearly missed by his children, Tamara "Tam" Knowles, Victor Young Jr., and Johnathan Young. He will long be remembered by his siblings, Loretta Young, Herbert Young (Linda), Joyce Young Conerly, and Aaron Young. His grandchildren Stephen Knowles, Ryan Knowles, Andrea Knowles, James Young and Riley Young. Great-grands, Ma'ha Knowles, Andrew Knowles, Aiden Kindle, Maleea Kindle, and Blair Walker. A host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends.
